JUDGE:

RE: Your participation in the DCI Program for Deans
5 December 1988

You are scheduled to give the closing remarks at the DCI's Program for Deans at 3:30 p.m. in the DCI Conference Room. Fifteen deans from colleges and universities across the country will be at Headquarters building for a day of briefings on Agency missions and activities. The deans have been given ad hoc SECRET-level clearances for the program.

You will spend about 30 minutes of discussion with the deans. We have prepared talking points that focus on the importance of the Agency's relationship with the academic community. You discuss the Agency's use of academic experts to strengthen our intelligence, our support of education, and our need to attract good people from academia who wish to devote a career to intelligence.

You will also be joining the deans for lunch in the Executive Dining Room from 12:30 to 1:30. You will be seated at the table with me,

Your proposed talking points are attached. A copy of the agenda for Dean's Day and a list of the invited deans are attached opposite.
